

Inseego Wins Compass Intelligence Solution Leadership Award for Ctrack Aviation Asset Management

May 31, 2018

Third Industry Recognition for Ctrack Aviation Asset Management This Year

SAN DIEGO--(BUSINESS WIRE)--May 31, 2018-- Inseego Corp. (NASDAQ: INSG), an industry leader in solutions for mobile enterprises, today announced that it has won the Connected Solution Leadership Award for Asset Tracking from Compass Intelligence. The annual program recognizes the best IoT, wireless data communications and eco-friendly solutions offered in the market during the past year.

In the "Connected Solution Leadership: Asset Tracking" category, Compass Intelligence recognizes leaders as solution providers who are deploying new disruptive technologies and features designed to solve some of the most complex logistics challenges for enterprises. Inseego is recognized for providing a proven solution that delivers actionable insights into enterprise assets by enhancing utilization and security, while reducing downtime and leveraging asset intelligence to make timely, data-driven operational decisions.

"Recognition by Compass Intelligence further reinforces our leadership position with the Ctrack Aviation Asset Management solution," says Chris Lytle, EVP Enterprise SaaS Solutions at Inseego. "Airlines need reliable asset management solutions because of their need to eliminate unscheduled downtime, increase existing asset utilization and automate manual processes associated with airport logistics. To best support our customers, we created a best-in-class platform IoT solution specifically for the Aviation vertical that directly addresses these challenges and maximizes return on investment"

"We are honored to recognize innovative enterprise mobile companies enhancing business, and, in this case, advancing the aviation and smart infrastructure industry like Inseego is doing today," states Compass Intelligence founder and CEO, Stephanie Atkinson.

The awards were selected by over 40 industry-leading press, editors, journalists, thought leaders and analysts. The program includes three primary award categories: Mobile & Wireless, IoT/Connected Solutions, and Bamboo Mobile, along with CompassIntel.com selected "of the Year" awards. The 50 nominated awards and 5 Compass-selected awards identify the best in mobile devices and software, wireless technology, mobile applications, platforms, Internet of Things, wearables, reuse/recycling of devices, robotics, augmented reality, artificial intelligence, connected products, and emerging solutions.
