

Inseego Corp. Statement on Infrastructure Investment and Jobs Act

November 22, 2021

New government funding helps ensure fast, reliable broadband for communities everywhere

SAN DIEGO--(BUSINESS WIRE)--Nov. 22, 2021-- Inseego Corp. (Nasdaq: INSG), a leader of 5G and intelligent IoT device-to-cloud solutions for enterprises and consumers, congratulates the U.S. Congress and President Joseph R. Biden for a monumental achievement in passing the Infrastructure Investment and Jobs Act.

"We applaud the government's commitment to providing funding to accelerate the deployment of high-speed broadband for citizens and businesses everywhere," said Inseego Chairman and CEO Dan Mondor. "We look forward to working with the National Telecommunications and Information Administration (NTIA) to produce a blueprint for success, and with state broadband officials to design and build out cost-effective programs that deliver ultra-fast, reliable, and secure internet access to their residents and businesses, now and in the future. We believe 5G is the way to accomplish this. "

Inseego, a U.S.-based company and cellular industry leader for over 25 years, is paving the way for new 5G innovations on many fronts:

- supplying high-speed broadband solutions to unserved and underserved communities
- bringing new innovations, efficiencies, and security to smart cities and infrastructure projects
- empowering the U.S. Department of Defense with groundbreaking 5G technology
- connecting first responders with fast, reliable, and low-latency communications
